About the RAIC

The Royal Architectural Institute of Canada is a voluntary national association, established in 1907 as the voice for architecture and the profession in Canada.

Representing about 4,800 members, the RAIC:

- Advocates for excellence in the built environment
- Celebrates the richness and diversity of architecture in Canada; and
- Supports architects in achieving excellence

The RAIC Foundation promotes excellence in architecture and exchange between Canadian and international architects, clients, and policy makers.
